

GOVERNANCE AND FUNDING

ACCA is governed by a Board of Directors consisting of official representatives (ORs) from member churches, committee chairs and officers. The Board and its elected officers meet monthly (except August) to review and guide assistance programs. Church and private contributions, foundations, UW/CFC designations and government grants fund ACCA. Apart from its Child Development Center, there is no paid staff and no charge for ACCA program services. As a 501(c)(3) organization, all contributions and donation of goods to ACCA are tax deductible.

VOLUNTEERS

More than 500 volunteers provide the caring labor, expertise and administrative support for ACCA programs. Volunteers describe their ACCA work as grace-filled and most rewarding. Consequently, volunteers tend to maintain long-standing relationships with ACCA, serving in a variety of programs. All are welcomed and appreciated. These volunteers make ACCA special indeed. Prospective volunteers should visit the ACCA website, <https://accacares.org> or email accacares@verizon.net.

PARTNERS

ACCA partners with many others in delivering its services. Our partnerships include service organizations, schools and businesses in the area, Fairfax County and State service staffs, as well as private initiatives which partner with ACCA in identifying and serving those in need.

ABOUT ACCA

What counts most in ACCA is serving those in need. Specifically, "Doing what Jesus would do." This has been our guiding principle since ACCA's founding by Fred & Emily Ruffing in 1967. We are a coalition of 27 churches serving community needs through programs designed to meet the emergency and critical needs of clients regardless of religion, race or ethnic background. ACCA has come to the assistance of thousands of clients since 1967. Each year our volunteers continue to abundantly reach out to persons in need in the Annandale, Baileys Crossroads, Culmore, Lincolnia areas of Fairfax County.

PROGRAMS

This brochure outlines assistance programs operated directly by ACCA and how to access them. It also lists allied programs that ACCA helps to support. ACCA's website provides access to more information about these programs and related volunteer opportunities.

CLIENT REQUESTS AND REFERRALS

Requests for ACCA services are received through Fairfax County Coordinated Services Planning, which identifies, screens and validates clients' needs. The request for services is then communicated to the appropriate ACCA program chair.
